Andrew specializes in searches for finance executives for a wide range of companies and financial services firms. He is known by clients and colleagues for being driven, creative, and willing to go the extra mile to succeed with challenging projects. In addition to deep knowledge of his areas of expertise, Andrew offers clients and candidates the benefit of business consulting in compensation, negotiation, strategy, and the development of new markets.

Dedicated to building a practice in the investment field, Andrew conducts searches for a broad spectrum of finance professionals, from C-level executive positions to supporting roles. His client roster consists of financial services and asset management firms, private equity firms, and larger companies across multiple industries. Representative engagements include: Chief Executive Officer of a prominent private equity firm's portfolio company, a variety of senior leadership and client facing roles for high and ultra high net worth wealth management companies, managing directors for investment advisory firms, corporate controllers for a variety of companies, Managing Director of Sales and Marketing for an investment advisory firm, and Vice President of Corporate Development and Strategy for an asset management/mutual fund company. He has been recognized as one of The McCormick Group's top producers.

Andrew has a diverse professional background. Prior to joining The McCormick Group, he was a senior executive in several industries, including software, telecommunications, and professional services. He also founded and expanded a business strategy consulting firm that was focused on the private equity community.

He received a Bachelor of Arts degree from University of Kansas and graduated with honors. In addition, he completed coursework at the University of Leicester, England. An active supporter of his community, Andrew serves on the Board of Trustees for the Cathedral Choral Society, the Corcoran Museum of Art's 1869 Society Steering Committee and as Vice Chairman of the Charity Ball for the National Children's Medical Center. Originally from Manhattan, KS, he enjoys traveling and keeping fit.
