Ivan specializes in executive search and consulting services in the areas of government affairs and public affairs. He is widely recognized as an expert in lobbying and government relations and has been quoted often in such publications as The New York Times, Legal Times, and Roll Call. Clients benefit from Ivan's knowledge of Capitol Hill, his passion for politics, and his extensive network of bi-partisan contacts in the legislative and executive branches of government.

At The McCormick Group, Ivan conducts searches on behalf of law firms, public affairs firms, trade associations, companies, and other organizations. He also provides confidential candidate representation to lawyers, lobbyists, and other government affairs professionals.

Ivan is a member of the Board of Directors of the American League of Lobbyists. He received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science from The George Washington University. He is originally from Winchester, MA.
